Aims - Our Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) information report aim to:

1. Set out how our school will support and make provision for pupils with special educational needs (SEND)
2. Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for pupils with SEND.

What does having a special educational need or disability mean?

A child or young person has SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities) if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them. A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if they:

- a) have significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age; or
- b) have a disability that prevents or hinders them from using educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions. (SEND Code of Practice 2015)

Supporting SEND Pupils & the 'four broad' areas of need are:

As a mainstream school, we must make reasonable and appropriate adjustments for pupils with additional needs across the four broad areas of the code of practice.

- 1) Communication and Interaction
- 2) Cognition and Learning
- 3) Social, Emotional, and Mental Health difficulties
- 4) Sensory and / or physical needs

Frequently asked questions by parents (FAQ's)

What types of SEN does Millbay Academy support?

Millbay Academy has experience in supporting a wide range of Special Educational Needs, including:

- Cognition and Learning difficulties
- Speech, Language and Communication difficulties
- Autism Spectrum Disorder
- Social Communication Difficulties
- Specific learning difficulties such as Dyslexia, Dyspraxia, and Dysgraphia
- Physical difficulties and medical needs
- Sensory difficulties including Hearing Impairment and Visual Impairment

- Social, Emotional and Mental Health difficulties

How will Millbay Academy identify and assess pupils and young people with Special Education Needs and how do I contact the Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Coordinator (SENDCo)

The SENDCo is Mr. Nick Griffiths, who can be contacted on 01752 221927 or email at ngriffiths@millbayacademy.org

Millbay Academy is committed to the early identification of Special Educational Needs. A range of evidence is collected through the regular assessment and monitoring arrangements: Before transfer to Millbay Academy, the SENDCo either visits or meets virtually the primary schools to gather information from teachers who know your child best. We use assessments such as KS2 results and reading, spelling, and Maths test results, the teacher's assessments, and any outside agency reports that may be available. On transfer to Millbay Academy, we carry out our assessments, including reading and spelling tests, Cognitive Abilities Tests, and subject-specific assessments. Throughout your child's time at Millbay Academy, their progress in the curriculum will be tracked regularly.

Any teacher or parent can raise a concern with the SENDCo at any time. If your child is not currently on the SEND support list and you are concerned, you are encouraged to contact your child's tutor or Key stage lead at your earliest convenience.

What are the arrangements for consulting parents and involving them in their child's education?

The Code of Practice 2014 has set out the expectation that parents are involved when there is a suggestion that their child may have a Special Educational Need and that parents are involved in discussing the provision and reviewing their child's progress three times a year. This may happen at Parent's evenings or in separate meetings hosted by a staff member who knows your child well. You are encouraged to contact the college if you would like to come in and talk about your child.

If we feel that your child requires SEND support, you will be invited to a meeting to discuss the outcomes we wish to work towards. Your child will be placed on our SEN Support list. We will work together to discuss the type of support that might be appropriate, including what can be done at home. An agreed plan will be put in place, which will be reviewed between you, your child, and a teacher who knows your child well. There will be a meeting three times a year to discuss your child's progress through their Pen-Portrait.

What are the arrangements for consulting young people and involving them in their education?

Pupils are involved in every stage of the assess, plan, do, and review graduated response to SEND provision and central to decision-making.

Pupils are asked what works and what doesn't work, and there is a focus on future aspirations to make sure that as far as possible, the provision at Millbay Academy not only suits them but is preparing them for adulthood.

What are the practical arrangements for assessing and reviewing progress towards outcomes?

At Millbay Academy, we follow our Local Authority guidance and conduct Team around me (TAM'S) or Early Help assessments (EHAT's) with the focus on what is working and what is not working. We discuss what is essential to and for the pupil and their family or other supportive people and aspirations for the future. At these meetings, the outcomes that everyone agrees on are recorded, and an action plan is drawn up to identify the appropriate action everyone will take to work towards achieving these outcomes. At the next meeting, the progress towards these outcomes will be reviewed, and if completed, other outcomes may be agreed upon, or there may be no further action.

What are the arrangements for supporting pupils and young people in moving between key stages of education and preparing for adulthood?

In preparing for transfer between primary school (Key Stage 2) to Millbay Academy (Key Stage 3), there are meetings at the primary school to which the SENDCo is invited, particularly where it is felt that the child may find the transition difficult. Specific visits to Millbay Academy can be arranged with the college by contacting Mr. Nick Griffiths, the SENDCo. In moving between phases of education, including from one academic year to the next, there are sometimes trigger points for stress or anxiety; these can be planned for and supported through the meeting cycle.

What is the approach to teaching pupils and young people with SEND?

First and foremost, the subject teacher is responsible for teaching all pupils to meet their needs. This is a strong base and firm belief at Millbay Academy and, as such, is reflected in the appraisal of teachers and the training of Teachers and Learning Support Assistants. There is an expectation that Quality First Teaching is the first response to meeting the needs of all pupils and that all are entitled to a broad and balanced differentiated curriculum.

How are adaptations made to the curriculum and the learning environment of pupils and young people with SEND?

Firstly, adaptations are made through differentiating the lesson – this may be some of many possibilities such as: adapting language, giving a choice of tasks, grouping pupils, questioning, writing down the main tasks, being sensitive to specific needs, and exploring the ways to ensure that pupils are challenged in a safe way allowing their strengths and successes to be celebrated.

Learning Support Assistants are trained in various types of SEND and are available in identified lessons to ensure that a child can fully participate in the lesson and develop independent skills. Some pupils have discreet literacy, social skills, Maths, or study skills intervention, which may be short, medium, or long term and could occur during tutor time or out of a lesson. The exact nature and length of the provision will depend on what is appropriate for a pupil at the time; this will be discussed during meetings with you.

What is the expertise and training of staff to support pupils and young people with SEND?

Specialist support from the SEND team is provided when young people with SEND require support to achieve their potential in their lessons. The support varies from child to child and will be put together through discussion with you using a range of information from subject teachers and outside agencies if appropriate.

How are the effectiveness and provision evaluated?

The progress pupils make towards the outcomes they need is measured three times a year plus a full written report through subject assessments. Progress towards other outcomes, social skills, or specific interventions is evaluated regularly and discussed at the SEND support meetings, which will take place three times a year through a review of their Pen-Portrait.

Millbay Academy uses research-based interventions; if it is necessary to change the provision in the light of insufficient progress, there is a choice available.

Millbay Academy has an Educational Psychologist linked to both its Primary and Secondary school based at Plymouth Local Authority, making recommendations for certain types of provision and monitoring progress with the pupils they review as part of their statutory provision. We are also regularly visited by other outside agencies and specialist teachers such as Social Communication, Autism, Hearing Impairment, Visual Impairment, and Mobility advisors.

What is the support available for improving emotional and social development, including pastoral support arrangements for listening to the views of pupils and young people with SEND and measures to prevent bullying?

Millbay Academy has a robust Pastoral Support system, including a Head of Key stage Three and Four, a pastoral and progress centre manager.

Every pupil belongs to a Tutor Group; Your child's tutor, Head of Key Stage, and Pastoral manager will get to know you and your child over the years at Millbay Academy.

How does Millbay Academy involve other bodies, including health and social care bodies, local authority support services, and voluntary sector organisations, meet pupils and young people's SEND and support their families?

Any SEND provision made for a student will be recorded on the school's Arbour tracking system and on individual 'Pen Portraits' where progress is monitored and evaluated. If progress rates are still judged to be inadequate despite the delivery of high-quality interventions, advice will be sought from external agencies regarding strategies to best meet the specific needs of a student. This will only be undertaken after parent permission has been obtained and may include referral to:

1. Communication and Interaction Team
2. Local Authority Services
3. Visual Impairment Team
4. Hearing Impairment team
5. Educational Welfare Officers
6. Physical and disability support service
7. Social Services
8. School Nurse
9. CAMHS (Child & Adolescent Mental Health Service)
10. Health teams such as Occupational Therapy, Child Development or Psychology Services
11. SPOC (Single point of contact) for Early Help and Children's Social Services.

For a small percentage of pupils whose needs are significant and complex and the Special Educational provision required to meet their needs cannot reasonably be provided from within the UTC's own resources, a request will be made to the Local Authority to conduct an assessment of Education, Health and Care needs. This may result in an Education, Health, and Care (EHC) plan being provided. Education, Health, and Care assessment will be undertaken by the Local Authority.*

What arrangements for handling complaints from parents of pupils with SEN about provision made at the school?

Any parent/carer dissatisfied with any aspect of SEND provision should first seek to discuss it with Mr. Nick Griffiths by letter, email, phone, or in person. If concerns remain, the parent/carer should contact Mr. Jason Trevarthen. If it is felt that the school is not addressing the concerns, the Governor with responsibility for SEND should be contacted via a letter sent to the school.

What is the additional support for learning that is available to pupils and young people with SEN?

There is a wide range of additional support, including:

- Teaching Assistant support in identified class',
- Teaching Assistant support out of class
- Specialist teaching of Literacy & Numeracy in small groups,
- Targeted research-based interventions for literacy.
- Speech and language strategies
- Sensory support
- Organisational support
- Social skills groups
- Small group support for vulnerable students
- Anger management support
- Access arrangements in exams

The type of package drawn up may include a range of these interventions or supports, including that which is generally available through the Pastoral System. We will monitor and adjust the level of support at times of stress around holidays, tests, exams, and times of transition, e.g., into Year 7, Year 10 at the start of the GCSE courses and transition at 16.

How are equipment and facilities secured to support pupils and young people with SEN?

Through discussion with parents, Millbay Academy will use their best endeavours to secure appropriate equipment to support pupils and young people with SEND. Millbay Academy has a limited supply of small specialist equipment, which is distributed according to pupils' needs and includes items such as coloured overlays, fiddle toys, writing slopes, and pen grips. Larger and more specialist equipment is generally secured through outside agencies or the Local Authority. The SEND Department has a small number of laptops that can be borrowed by students to use in lessons that require significant writing. These are distributed to Faculties where extended pieces of writing are frequently necessary.
